SERVICE PENSION.

Views of Posts and Individuals on this Important Measure.

on this Important Measure.

E. S. Kelley Post, Wheaton, Ill., J. F. Whittle, Commander, unanimously resolved at its last meeting that a service pension was due the veterans, and requested the Senators from Illinois and the Member from that district to use their best endeavors to secure the passage of the service pension bill.

W. P. Evritt Post, Rochester, Mich., unanimously approves The National Tribune service pension bill, and the paper's able advocacy of it. They have sent a request to each Senator and Representative from the State that he should use his utmost endeavor to secure a speedy passage of the service of the service of the same.

quests the Senators and Representatives to use all honorable means to secure its passage.

Richard T. Lyan, 2d Iowa, says that he can be put down strongly for the service pension, though he served a long term, having enlisted in August, 1861, and being discharged in November, 1865. During his service he contented himself with keeping track of Co. F, and getting a good chance to shoot. He was first in comkeeping track of Co. F, and getting a good chance to shoot. He was first in command after the Eighth Corporal, and so did not have much responsibility, but when it came to foraging and drawing rations he was there every time, obeying orders most of the time, and grubbing stumps part of his enlistment. He was not so small but he was easy to hit, and he got it in the knee in Moscow, Tenn., and in the whiskers at Shoal Creek.
